AgroComplex 2019

International Exhibition Forum of the
Effective Solutions for Agribusiness

October 29 - 31, 2019

Kiev, Ukraine

The Market

Around 60 percent of Ukraine's approximately 32.5 million hectares of arable land comprises fertile black-earth land. Hence, Ukraine has enormous potential for high crop yields. In 2016, they again saw a record harvest of 66 m tonns of grain. However, owing to outdated equipment many farms cannot exploit this potential efficiently. Small and medium-sized farms, in particular, lack modern tractors and combines. The country's agricultural-holdings (operating more than 20,000 hectares of farmland each) are investing heavily, particularly in crop cultivation, and in grain and oilseed processing and storage. Ukraine's farm machinery and farm inputs producers are not competitive, but significant government subsidies for these industries are not to be expected. Thus, Ukraine offers foreign manufacturers potentially lucrative markets. Also, the economic situation improved significantly in 2016 with a 2% rise of the GDP and a 37% increase on the imports of agricultural machinery.

The Exhibition

AgroComplex, taking turns with InterAGRO, will be held every other year and is the annual meeting point of agriculture in Ukraine for leading investors and farmers in autumn. In 2017, 13,500 visitors came to the fair to meet 210 exhibitors from 10 countries. Traditionally, they meet on renowned manufacturers of agricultural machinery showing their latest state-of-the-art technology of the leading national and international manufacturers with the focus on going easy on resources. This year, AgroComplex will focus on issues of increasing economic efficiency of agribusiness by means of introducing innovative agrarian technologies, deep processing of agricultural products and improvement of agribusiness infrastructure as well.
